

HUNGER STRIKES BENEFICIAL

WITH the entire world watching the course of the hunger strike of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, which is now in its forty-seventh day, William Brady, M. D., health expert for The Lima News, has written two interesting articles on hunger strikes.

The first is printed herewith and should be of much interest to those who are watching with amazement the long fight the lord mayor is putting up. The second article will be printed Wednesday.

MAYOR MacSwiney's hunger strike, quite aside from the influence it may have on the cause for which he made the sacrifice, focuses popular attention on the fact that it takes a long, long time to starve a man who is not afraid to die.

It would be an excellent thing for the health of our people if hunger strikes should become epidemic on this side of the water. The average overfed man or underexercised woman in this country has no conception how beneficial such a strike may be, because it just isn't done here in America, not one we little tiny bit. We wouldn't miss our "eats" here for all the world, much less for Ireland. We really and truly do overwork one muscle, and one, alone, the eating muscle.

Succi fasted several times for periods of thirty days. Dr. Tanner, the American physician who only recently reached the end of a long life, fasted for forty days. Merlati, in Paris, fasted fifty days. But Succi took some kind of opiate to overcome the pain or distress he felt in the abdomen. Merlati and Dr. Tanner used only water.

A man supplied with dry food but no water can survive only a few days, from three to seven days, according to the atmospheric condition and the juiciness of his tissues and his physical activity. Individuals vary widely in juiciness; some of us are pretty dry, high specific gravity, while others are low specific gravity, floaters, damp, juicy.

So short a time as fifteen years ago American physiologists asserted that in man death occurs in from five to eight days after total deprivation of food, as a general rule, altho they were familiar with the remarkable individual fasts above mentioned. Even the doctors, up to the past decade or so, had the instinctive horror of fasting that pervades the popular mind today. At this very moment a good many medical authorities on the application of fasting therapeutically adhere to a peculiar error of nomenclature when writing or speaking of fasting in this sense, calling it the "starvation" treatment. And yet they expect patients to submit to it!

Fear of starvation, not mere deprivation of food, is the cause of the early collapse which occurs in cases of involuntary starvation. This same fear accounts for the disagreeable symptoms which break up many a self-starting therapeutic fast after the first 24 hours. Shipwrecked survivors succumb to fear and exposure as much as to starvation. If deprived of water, of course that hastens death. Exposure to moderate cold also hastens the end, simply because energy is used up in maintaining body warmth.

I shall have more to say on hunger strikes tomorrow.

Tuesday Evening

CAPTAINS REPORT SALES

Total of $200,000 Expected to be Attained Quickly

At the most enthusiastic meeting so far in the Knights of Columbus $200,000 bond sale campaign, held at the new K. of C. building Monday night, total sales of $113,500 were reported.

Every captain reported sales, the flags being won by Joseph Cassidy of division A with $1,900, F. J. Callahan of division B with $2,400, F. Schenk of division C with $6,700. The quota set for each team to secure during the drive was $6,666, and two teams have already turned in sales in excess of this amount. They are J. L. Henry's team with $6,900 and F. Schenk's team with $8,350. Officials in charge of the drive predicted that a number of other teams will go over the top at the meeting Tuesday night.

Chairman Rev. W. A. Tobin and other leaders of the campaign were very optimistic Tuesday and looked for an early completion of a successful campaign, with a substantial over-subscription.

Leaders said that at first the public did not understand the excellent seven per cent investment for a home welfare project but are now calling headquarters from Toledo, Cleveland and other large cities to purchase the bonds. It is understood, however, that action is being delayed on these applications until the residents of Lima and Allen-co have been given an opportunity to invest.

Sales reported at Tuesday evening's meeting are as follows: Frank Barrett, No. 2, $700; C. A. Klotz, No. 3, $400; P. B. O'Connor, No. 4, $1,700; W. B. O'Connor, No. 5, $200; Joseph Cassidy, No. 6, $1,900; O. W. Regan, No. 7, $600; J. C. McDonald, No. 8, $250; Wm. O'McConnell, No. 9, $750; F. J. Callahan, No. 11, $3,400; H. E. Limes, No. 12, $525; J. H. Callahan, No. 13, $1,350; James L. Henry, No. 14, $1,350; D. A. Diamond, No. 15, $250; C. McGray, No. 16, $400; Elmer O'Connor, No. 17, $200; P. H. Kelly, No. 18, $600; T. A. Collins, No. 19, $350; O. Simons, No. 20, $1,500; John Renna, No. 21, $900; Alfred Ringstein, No. 22, $300; Frank Stone, No. 23, $800; M. Burke, No. 24, $1,150; F. Schenk, No. 25, $6,700; J. D. Leonard, No. 26, $250; Lawrence Barrett, No. 27, $1,600; John Kiloran, No. 28, $500; William Hughes, No. 29, $325; Edward Gallagher, No. 30, $450; Executive Committee, $3,900. LEGION MAY PICK KANSAS CITY

Recommended by Committee As Next Convention Place

REPORTS TO BE MADE TODAY

Amendments to Constitution to Be Offered

CLEVELAND — (By Associated Press.) — The formalities of the official opening and the parade over, the American Legion got down to real business of its second annual convention Tuesday. Twelve committees, established Monday under orders from National Commander Franklin D'Olier, worked late into the night in order to have their reports ready.

The committee on time and place for the next national convention was prepared to recommend Kansas City as its choice of the next convention city. It selected October 31 to November 2, 1921, as the date so as not to interfere with the harvest season. Invitations also had been received from New York, Denver, San Francisco, Montgomery and New Orleans.

There was such a variety of resolutions before the resolutions committee that it was regarded as certain its report would be the last to be made public. More than 500 resolutions on all subjects had been given to the committee to consider and report on or refer to such committees as deemed advisable.

CHANGES PROPOSED
The committee on departmental divisions was prepared to recommend that the constitution be amended and six departments be created, five in the United States and one in Europe, and that instead of the five vice commanders elected at large as at present, a vice commander be placed over each of the six departments.

The central department under this plan would include Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota North and South Dakota.

The resolution favoring immediate action by the United States senate on the four-fold compensation plan received the approval of the committee on adjusted compensation, but minor amendments were advocated. Nearly 80 per cent of the legion are strongly in favor of the resolution, it was said.

The house of representatives already has acted favorably on the plan.

OTHER PROGRAM MATTERS
The committee on soldiers' disability and insurance considered the advisability of placing the war risk bureau, public health service and federal board for vocational training under the supervision of a separate cabinet officer. The heads of these bureaus were present at the committee's session.

Other matters to come before the convention will be an Americanization program which should have for its purpose the assimilation of the nation's alien population and to aid immigrants in learning American ideals, history and customs; more adequate care for the wounded American soldiers; granting of immediate citizenship to all who served the country; revision of the civil service regulations to make it easier for former service men to obtain public employment; decision upon a definite military or non-military policy; declaration of Armistice day, November 11, as a national holiday; drastic action for those who have been proved slackers in the world war; opposition to the participation of legion men, as members of the organization, in labor disputes; planning of membership drives to raise the present membership, and adoption of a "ritual" for initiation into the legion.

HOPE OPERATION WILL RESTORE SINGER'S VOICE

SAN FRANCISCO — In the hope that her voice may be restored by surgical operation or by a suitable climate, Madame H. Large, of London and New Zealand, pupil of Madame Melba, has arrived here with her husband.

Madame Large will visit the Mayo brothers at Rochester, Minn., to learn if anything can be done by the world famous surgeons for her voice. Mr. Large is an international figure, having worked with Herbert Hoover in war relief work. The couple were married after the war and are making a return honeymoon trip to London.

C. C. DRIVE NETS 438 MEMBERS

Campaign Is Still On and Going Fine—Luncheons Continue Until Friday—General Meeting at K. of C. Home

Three hundred and thirty-four memberships to the Lima Chamber of Commerce were turned in at the team-workers luncheon held at the Elks' club Tuesday noon, bringing the total up to 438 members, or slightly less than the old membership before the drive commenced.

Team workers in the army and navy divisions turned in 292 memberships and 42 were turned in by a committee which was been working on a special list of plurals. High honors were carried off by Captain Maurice Rosenbloom, of the army division, with 31 memberships. Captain John Williams was high man in the navy division, with 25 members.

All captains but two or three were present and made reports. Noting the few absentees, Chairman Glenn C. Webb, declared that while the drive is progressing even better than was expected, every captain must be on the job every day if big things are expected to be accomplished. "No one thing was ever put across by a part of a community pulling one way and part another," he declared.

Prosecuting Attorney Roy E. Brownell, of Genesee-co Michigan, addressed the team workers, pointing out the accomplishments of the Lima chamber of commerce since it was rejuvenated by one of Congressman Reed's whirlwind campaigns.

Brownell declared that before Reed came to the Flint Board of Commerce it was torn by dissension. "Anything in the city backed by the Board of Commerce was doomed to defeat," he declared. "The story always went out that such and such a proposition was backed by the silk-stocking gang, the highbrows and naturally it was defeated."

"The same thing was true when Reed came," he declared. "What the use of bringing a man in here and putting on a circus, with a lot of noise and glamour," was the cry, Brownell said. "This, he said, was answered that if you are going to have a real board of commerce you must have a real engineer, the same as you have in any other enterprise."

He declared after the campaign the board of commerce became so universally popular that the county bought and paid for 30 memberships at $25 each and not a kick was made in the county.

The luncheons will continue at the Elks club until Friday when a general membership meeting will be held at the Knights of Columbus building, both old and new members being invited.

Speakers for the remainder of the week have not been announced.

COURTS RECESS TO HONOR SCHIFF

New York's Head Bows as Financial Fier's Funeral Is Held

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press.) — New York bowed its head Tuesday in memory of Jacob H. Schiff, financier and philanthropist, who died here last Saturday. Thousands vainly sought admission to the simple funeral services at the Temple Emanu-El 43rd-st and Fifth-ave, the congregation of which Mr. Schiff had been a member for half a century.

Instead of strict adherence to the impressive Jewish ritual for the dead, a special order of service was arranged by the officiating clergymen, Rabbi Joseph Silverman and Samuel Schulman. Mr. Schiff left a written request that no eulogy be delivered.

BUSINESS STOPS
Many courts throughout the city adjourned for the day. Governor Alfred E. Smith came here from Albany to attend the services. Star prominent in financial America were among those invited to the great banking houses in the financial district were at half mast.

Down on the crowded, grief-stricken East Side, in the district where Mr. Schiff had so often extended his generous philanthropy business was suspended.

PUSHCARTS COVERED
Even the peddlers' pushcarts were covered. Thousands of sombre mourning placards appeared over the entrances to tenement houses and in the windows of shops, settlements, hospitals and orphanages.

Members of numerous Jewish fraternal and other societies, who were unable to attend the services, owing to the limited seating capacity of the temple, stood silently on both sides of Fifth-ave from Mr. Schiff's residence to the synagogue during the hours of the service.

The police made special arrangements to handle the traffic and crowds in the vicinity of the temple. Interment was made at the cemetery in Salem field, in Brooklyn, where Dr. Silverman recited the Kaddish.

Now Developments Further Tangle Flannigan Affair

Chief of Police O. J. Roush was arrested Tuesday morning on an affidavit filed by E. P. Taylor charging him with killing Mel T. Flannigan, who was shot last Friday by Sergeant John Goebel of the Lima police force.

He was released shortly after noon when Taylor withdrew the affidavit, signing another affidavit that he had been influenced in signing a paper and that he did not know he was signing a charge against the chief.

Taylor is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Vera Flannigan, wife of the dead man, who came here for the body. He said he believed he was signing an affidavit that she was the dead man's lawfully wedded wife when he signed the charge against the chief of police.

CHIEF RELEASED

Roush appeared in Justice Hamilton's court Tuesday morning and was released on his own recognizance until 12:45 when the charge was withdrawn.

Taylor, in his last affidavit, mentioned two men alleging they influenced him in signing the paper he later learned was a charge against Roush.

Flannigan was mortally wounded last Friday afternoon when he sought to escape from Goebel after being arrested on a charge of being implicated in illicit manufacture and sale of liquor. He died shortly after in the city hospital.

Lester Flannigan, his brother, pleaded guilty and was fined $600 on a charge of operating a still taken in a raid by police.

MATTER CLOSED

D. C. Henderson, legal counsel for Roush, quit Tuesday afternoon on the matter he closed so far as his client is concerned.

Taylor said he would start to Georgia with the body of Flannigan Wednesday morning.

Courier A. C. Adams said Tuesday afternoon that the inquest into the death of Flannigan probably will be held Wednesday morning. The time depends, he said, upon whether or not all witnesses can be found.

Representatives of building material producers, builders, architects, building trades workers and contractors decided to form the congress at a conference organized by representatives of the various interests involved.

The steering committee decided to begin immediately to form local committees who will do all in their power to increase home construction in their various cities.

The avowed purpose of the congress is to bring together every element concerned in building, including contractors, material men, architects and labor, and get them all working in harmony.

Both the young women were in swimming off the island when Eva's sister shouted for help. Eva tried to get her, but sank. The sister was saved by rescuers. It is believed that a considerable sum of money in specie which Eva carried about her dragged her down in the water.

President Dunn—Cleveland, If Pennant Winner, to

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press.) — The national commission Tuesday reversed its decision Monday and decided to open the world series at Brooklyn on October 5, playing three games there. The change was made at the request of Jim Dunn, president of the Cleveland club, who asked more time to prepare the Cleveland grounds in the event his team should win the American League pennant.

The teams will travel on October 3, and open in the American League city winning the pennant, either Cleveland or Chicago, on October 9, for a four game series.

Sunrise Address in Iowa

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — (By Associated Press.) — A day's campaigning calling for sixteen speeches, equalling his record mark, was begun here early Tuesday morning by Governor Cox, of Ohio.

A brief before-breakfast talk here at the station headed one of the hardest programs of the Democratic presidential candidate's trip.

CRITICS OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS ANSWERED BY WILSON

PRESIDENT'S FIRST CAMPAIGN SHOT

White House Document Is Issued In Reply to Claims Set Up by Republicans Against the World Covenant —Explains Article Ten

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press.)—The first public document in the present presidential campaign to be issued at the White House was made public Tuesday. It dealt with the league of nations and was in the form of a letter to E. M. Swartz, of Los Angeles, written by Secretary Tumulty at President Wilson's direction.

The White House letter was in reply to one to the president in which Mr. Swartz had declared the forces supporting the Republican ticket were contending that if Article Ten of the league covenant was ratified the United States "would be bound to support England in holding Ireland under subjection."

The letter of Mr. Swartz follows:

"In reply to your letter of the 20th of September, I beg to say that the identical questions contained in your letter, with reference to Article Ten and the right of self-determination, found in the covenant of the league of nations were placed before the president while he was on his western trip last year and fully answered by him. The president directs me to call your attention to the following questions and answers given by him to the press at that time which I think satisfactorily answer your queries. The questions and answers are as follows:

Q.—Under the covenant does the nation obligate itself to assist any member of the league in putting down a rebellion of its subjects or conquered peoples?

A.—It does not.

Q.—Under the covenant can this nation independently recognize a government whose peoples seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the league?

A.—The independent action of the government of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the covenant of the league of nations.

Q.—Under the covenant are those subject nations or peoples only that are mentioned in the peace treaty entitled to the right of self-determination or does the league possess the right to annex a similar privilege to other subject nation or peoples?

A.—It was not possible for the peace conference to act with regard to the self-determination of any territories except those which had belonged to the defeated empires but in the covenant of the league of nations it has set up for the first time in Article Eleven a forum to which all claims of self-determination which are likely to disturb the peace of the world or the good understanding between nations and peoples on which the peace of the world depends can be brought.

Q.—Why was the case of Ireland not heard at the peace conference? And what is your opinion on the subject of self-determination of Ireland?

A.—The case of Ireland was not heard at the peace conference because the peace conference had no jurisdiction over any question of that sort which did not affect territories which belonged to the defeated empires. My position on the subject of self-determination for Ireland is expressed in Article Eleven of the covenant in which I may say I was particularly interested in seemed to me necessary for the peace and freedom of the world that a forum should be created to which all peoples could bring any matter which was likely to affect the peace and freedom of the world."

ARTICLE TWO

"The action of the league under this Covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an Assembly and of a Council, with a permanent Secretariat."

ARTICLE THREE

"The Assembly shall consist of representatives of members of the League."

"The Assembly shall meet at stated intervals and from time to time association may require, at the seat of the League, or at such other place as may be decided upon."

"The Assembly may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world."

ARTICLE FOUR

"The Council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, of the British Empire, of France, of Italy and of Japan, together with representatives of four other members of the League. These four members of the League shall be selected by the Assembly from time to time in its discretion. Until the appointment of the representatives of the four members of the League first selected by the Assembly, representatives of Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain shall be members of the Council."

"With the approval of the majority of the Assembly, the Council may name additional members of the League whose representatives shall always be members of the Council, the Council with like approval may increase the number of members of the League to be selected by the Assembly for representation on the Council."

"The Council shall meet from time to time as occasion may require and at least once a year, at the seat of the League, or at such other place as may be decided upon."

"The Council may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the League or affecting the peace of the world."

"Any member of the League not represented on the Council shall be invited to send a representative to sit as a member at any meeting of the Council during the consideration of matters specially affecting the interests of that member of the League."

"At meetings of the Council, each member of the League represented on the Council shall have one vote and may have more than one representative."

EXPLANATION.

In certain respects these two bodies, the Council and Assembly, correspond to the lower and upper houses of a congress, but strictly speaking, the Assembly is more like a parliamentary body, or legislature, and the Council more like a responsible cabinet with limited executive powers."

Article three has heretofore been explained in these columns and is the one under which enemies of the League assert that Great Britain would have six votes to one by the United States. The Council and not the Assembly is the real governing body of the League and Great Britain has only one vote therein, the same as the United States would have as a member."

The funeral of the noted motion picture actress who died in Paris as the result of accidentally taking poison, drew thousands of persons from all walks of life to St. Thomas church on Fifth Ave. There were millionaires and paupers, stars and members of the chorus, friends and a merely curious.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multifid cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

INDIANS ARE BUYING SILK SHIRTS AND HOSE

SAN FRANCISCO.—Profiteers are not the only ones who today are lavishly spending money for the luxuries of modern civilization.

They have met their equals in the Puente Indians, of Mono and Inyo counties of California. These "first Americans" seemed to have cast away their native indifference and are in an orgy of buying automobiles, silk hose and other expensive apparel. Young bucks and old buccas and squaws alike are reckless with their bank accounts, reports state.

Reason: Indians shearing sheep get $12 a day; squaws doing housework get $7 a day. And so on the eastern slope of the Sierras there is "money heap much."

MEN AND MATTERS

County School Superintendent C. A. Arganbright will attend the State Schoolmen's Conference to be held at Ohio State University, Columbus October 7 and 8. Various matters of interest to school principals and superintendents will be acted upon at this session. City School Superintendent J. C. Collins will also probably attend the meeting.

Owing to the absence from the city Tuesday of a large percentage of Kiwanians who are attending the state convention at Toledo, this weekly noonday luncheon was postponed until next Tuesday.

P. E. Dundore, general manager of the Hoover-Bond Co., has returned from Ashabula, where he installed C. G. Stout as manager of that store. Mr. Stout was formerly advertising manager of the local store.

H. G. Curtis has accepted a position as salesman with the Hoover-Bond Co.

EAST IRON & MACHINE CO. TO REORGANIZE

W. L. Russell, president of the East Iron & Machine Co., home from a business trip to New York, stated Tuesday that the appointment of E. W. Joehar as receiver of the East Iron plant during his absence is in his opinion, a proper move and that Mr. Moser is the right man in the right place. Mr. Russell stated that the receivership was brought about by reason of the fact that operating capital was necessary and not due to shortage of orders, as the company has been doing a fine business. A reorganization is expected to take place at once, and necessary capital secured.

STOP!

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies I had read of. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THARE, 824 South 6th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WARNER, Rt. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

VIKING LOSES HIS LIFE IN PACIFIC

Call of Waves Lures Mariner to Final Rest

SAN FRANCISCO.—Hielgar Tortensen, aged mariner, descendant of the Vikings, sleeps in the Pacific Ocean.

Tortensen put out from Seattle, Washington, June 6 in a twenty-two-foot open boat. His destination was San Francisco Bay. His purpose was the call of romance and adventure, of an overweening desire to sail alone on the Pacific, as his far-famed ancestors had cruised the Arctic seas. He had no fear of the high winds and rocky reefs that would beset his path. He knew only the call of the blue seas, a call that he had responded to since his youth. His wife's and friends' protests availed them nothing.

A few days later Tortensen was picked up, against his wishes, and brought to Aberdeen, Washington. But the authorities had no law to prevent this old mariner from sailing as he pleased. So he slipped the moorings, sailed up Puget Sound, thru the Straits of Juan de Fuca and went out on the wide, rolling wastes of the Pacific.

Lumber vessels that piled up and down the Coast reported seeing a small boat out in the deep water channels. The lone pilot refused to answer signals asking if he needed help, they said. And then the word went up and down the Coast to watch for Tortensen.

But the Viking lost in his adventure. The end came somewhere out in the vast spaces. That Tortensen fought a game fight, that he sailed bravely is told by the circumstances. His boat was washed up on the shore at Eureka, several days ago. The sail was gone, the food supplies were gone; the vessel had been wrecked by the heavy seas of a Pacific storm.

Tortensen, Viking, sails no more. But the story of his brave voyage, of his last cruise on the sea he loved, will be spun for years to come along the waterfronts of the Pacific.

HALF OUNCE RUSSIAN TOBACCO WORTH POUND OF BURLEY OVER THERE

RIGA.—Apparently the Russian "Lady Nicotine" has "powers to charm" which her American sister is denied. However this may be, it is a striking tribute to the subtle excellencies of Russian tobacco that American Red Cross workers attached to the Commission to West Russia here willingly swap a pound of American smoking mixture for half an ounce of the Russian brand. And rare is the Russian who will consent to such a trade, in spite of the fact that real, scented Russian tobacco is practically extinct here, and the only smokes to be had in satisfying quantity are American smokes.

The Red Cross workers gladly consent to the unequal exchange of a pound of Burley, or Maryland, for half an ounce of Russian leaf. They admit that there is something irresistible about the Muscovite article, which, when mixed in nice proportion with American leaf, produces a satisfying cigarette.

CANDIDATE LOST HIS WHISKEY PRESCRIPTIONS

BOSTON.—Running for office proved a drought-producing venture for Thomas F. Coffey, superintendent of elevators at City Hall, who got 86 votes in the Congressional nomination fight in the Tenth District.

Coffey states his candidacy cost him $9.10, $4 of which is represented by the loss of two whiskey prescriptions.

His itemized expense account, filed with the Secretary of State, follows: "September 3: Lost a water glass valued at ten cents. Lost two doctors' prescriptions for spirits frumment valued at $4; also lost a straw hat valued at $5, and the loss of the nomination.

The erstwhile candidate opines that he will try it again.

HARDING ENTERS WEST VIRGINIA

Speaks at Wheeling Tonight—Confers With Leaders

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN.—(By Associated Press).—Carrying his campaign into another of the political border states, Senator Harding began Tuesday a strenuous schedule of addresses, which will take him to most of the larger cities of West Virginia before he returns to Marion, West Virginia, on Wednesday night.

The only set speech on Tuesday's schedule was to be an evening meeting at Wheeling, but the special train made numerous short stops at other points where crowds greeted the Republican nominee and asked him to address them. Wednesday he will stop at Parkersburg, Huntington and Keokuk, besides making a swing into Kentucky for an afternoon speech at Ashland.

The train which left Baltimore Monday night after a meeting at the Fifth Regiment armory, was due at Wheeling early in the afternoon. During most of the time between his arrival and the evening address the candidate planned to rest. The exceptional heat has made his trip unusually trying and his voice showed the strain of Monday night's speech to the tumultuous gathering in the Baltimore auditorium.

As he traveled westward Tuesday Senator Harding took up various important features of his campaign in conferences with several of his closest advisers. On his train were Harry M. Daugherty, the nominee's pre-convention manager, Charles D. Hille, former Republican national chairman, and former Senator George Sutherland of Utah, who is on the Harding headquarters staff at Marion.

It is understood that trip to be made by the senator late next month to New York and New England.

By all means at night

The night brushing with Pebecco Tooth Paste is particularly important.

Tooth drill is the most thankless number on the morning program. It is harder to keep your teeth really clean all day than it is to wear immaculate linen in a soft-coal town.

Pebecco Tooth Paste will keep your teeth clean from the bathroom to the breakfast table, and there the bacon and eggs undo in part the work you have done.

But the clean-mouth sensation you get from the night brushing signifies that your teeth are protected during the long hours of sleep.

You should not and would not omit the morning tooth-drill, but the night brushing counts most for permanent, sound teeth.

The man who thinks he can't shave with a safety razor

The man who excuses his use of an old-fashioned razor on the ground that he has a tender skin and a wiry beard, often tells this to a safety razor user who has a much more difficult face to shave.

ONE of the most surprising reversals of opinion ever known in the history of shaving has suddenly come about.

In the past four months—since the introduction of the new Gillette razor, the BIG FELLOW—more men have given up the old-fashioned way of shaving for the Gillette habit than in any similar period of time heretofore.

Many of them, men who had always looked upon the safety feature of the Gillette as its only advantage and one that they did not require of a razor.

There was something about the Big Fellow, the Gillette with the longer handle and heavier head, that appealed to them the instant they saw its size and felt its weight and balance.

And the men who used to think they couldn't shave with a safety razor are making the Gillette Big Fellow their particular razor—and the fastest selling razor that has ever been placed on the market.

HOTEL MEN MAY CUT PRICES

et Today in Chicago to Consider Reductions

FOOD COSTS STILL TUMBLE

Further Reductions in Autos Are Also Announced

CHICAGO.—(By United Press.)—Further steps to reduce prices were expected to be taken here Tuesday.

Chicago hotel men were scheduled to meet to consider making reductions in the cost of eating. Russell J. Poole, a city official, directing the local fight to lower prices, was prepared to go before the hotel men and point out to them alleged discrepancies between the cost and selling prices of food listed on hotel menu cards.

It is thought we will have no trouble showing that 60 cents is too much to charge for one cent's worth of to-matos and that 60 cents is more than two cents worth of corn on the cob is worth," said Poole.

Food prices continued to tumble in the middle west Tuesday.

Potatoes were selling at from $1.50 to $2 a hundred pounds wholesale. Peaches, tomatoes and fruits were quoted down close to pre-war prices.

Further reductions in automobile prices were announced.

The Studebaker Corporation announced a reduction of from $125 to $200 in the prices of its cars.

The city of Chicago's venture as a merchant was to be given a tryout Tuesday or Wednesday. Seven lake steamers which were sent to Michigan to get fruit, were due to arrive Tuesday. The city has purchased the fruit to be sold at cost on the Municipal Pier.

To speed up building and relieve the housing shortage, builders attending the municipal building and construction congress here Monday decided to meet again in January to

Catarh Prescription Here From Scotland

Successful Hay Fever Preventive

In Scotland just before Hay Fever time comes round, people start at once to breathe air which they purify themselves by a very simple method.

One of Scotland's learned doctors discovered it, prescribed it and soon its power to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat in all cases of Hay Fever, Rose Colds, Common Colds and Catarh was heralded all over Scotland.

Recently the formula of this successful prescription reached America, and now the better pharmacies are dispensing it freely under the name of "HAELANOL," and it's so easy and simple to use, so acutely penetrating that a few breaths will open up clogged nostrils and soothe and heal the sore, inflamed membrane. Hunter's Drug Stores sell both sizes—50 cents and $1.25. The Haelanol Company, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.—Adv.

Have You A Reserve Supply of Energy?

How To Store Up Fighting Power To Resist Disease

If you are strong and well your system has a reserve supply of fighting energy to draw on whenever you are exposed to colds or other disease germs, and this energy enables you to throw off and overcome the disease. But if you find that you are tired, weak or run down in health this reserve supply has been exhausted and unless you can replace it at once you are in danger. Because it supplies the food substances which produce strength and enable you to withstand fatigue and hardship, Father John's Medicine is the commonsense tonic, energy-builder for you to take right now. It is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. It is not a stimulant but a nourishing, flesh-builder by means of which the system stores up energy to be drawn on whenever it is needed.—Adv.

MAZOLA

Many cooks can't make a light cake rich or a rich cake light

USING too much shortening is the cause of most failures in baking.

Mazola gives richness and avoids soggy.

Because you use 1/4 to 1/3 less of Mazola for shortening than butter, lard or compounds.

This means more than economy. It means a rich cake—yet a light cake—easily digested. Crisp, flaky pie crusts are likewise made with Mazola. Many an inexperienced housewife made her first successful pie crust when she tried Mazola.

Mazola is not an animal fat. It is a pure vegetable oil—from an edible source. It contains no moisture but is all fat—100%.

Once you try Mazola for making cakes and pie crusts you will never go back to butter, lard or compounds.

OLD VETERANS IN REUNION

George Bowers Chosen President
Companies D and G

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott gave the principal address at the annual reunion of Companies D and G, 54th Regiment, O. V. I., held Tuesday at Memorial Hall. The session opened Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, with prayer by Chaplain Milton Welker. President George Bowers presided. The morning was devoted principally to routine business. At noon a bounteous dinner was served by members of the W. R. C. to old veterans, their wives and families at the hall. In the afternoon roll call of living veterans and deceased heroes was held. Dan Harpster, West Cairo, spoke briefly and a captive closed the session. Mary Klatta Wilcox, well known Lima singer, gave several vocal selections. The officers are: George Bowers, president; L. J. Shockey, vice president; J. Connor, treasurer; John Klatta, secretary.

TRAFFIC SITUATION SOLVED, MAYOR SAYS

Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt declared Tuesday he believes the traffic situation on the public square is satisfactorily solved for all concerned, by amendment of the non-parking regulations to permit one row of automobiles on each side. He said the safety zone about the transfer station has been highly commended and that the amendment to the parking regulations will provide for 70 additional machines. This action was taken by Safety Director Fred Fisher after observing the traffic condition in the public square for a number of weeks and reaching the decision that additional parking space should be provided.

WHY 5%

The question is frequently asked, "Why does a Savings and Loan Company pay five per cent interest on deposits instead of a lower rate?" It is a fair question and here is a fair answer from The Allen County Savings and Loan Company as to its method of business.

This Company makes loans only upon approved real estate security and the business has been so carefully managed that not one dollar of any loan has ever been lost; fire insurance policies covering buildings on the land mortgaged trust always he made payable to the Company in case of loss by fire, withdrawals of deposits are usually permitted when called for, but the Company reserves the right to require notice of withdrawal and a lower "overhead" expense makes a wide margin of profit necessary. All loans made by this Company are made upon property in or near Lima and help to build up our own community and increase the value of local property and the number of home owners. Service Director, Elmer McClain announced Tuesday he will advertise for bids on coal for the city. Now however, he declares the service department has had numerous offers which make it seem probable that coal may be purchased at fairly reasonable prices.

It's the Old Story

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing deaf or hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give his prescription a trial.—Adv.

DYSPEPTICS QUIT STOMACH DRUGGING

A physician says that in most cases of stomach trouble there is really no disease of the stomach at all, but just too much acid. Excessive acid prevents natural digestion, causes sour stomach, fermentation of food, and thus upsets the liver and intestines and causes nervousness, weakness, sleeplessness, and "blues."

Quit stomach drugs and artificial digestants. Simply take a teaspoonful of four tablets of ordinary Eucated Magnesia in a glass of hot water after meals to neutralize the excessive acidity and you will be all right.

It works fine. You can eat what you want and sleep all night—no more walking the floor at three and four o'clock in the morning and suffering from extreme weakness and nervousness all the next day. Eucated Magnesia is for sale by all druggists in powder or tablet form. Try this plan for three weeks.—Adv.

Four More Companies Announce
Reductions Today
HUDSON, ESSEX, STUDEBAKER

Also the Overland, Decrease from $100 to $450

Sharp reductions in the prices of four more makes of automobiles were announced Tuesday by manufacturing companies and local dealers, following close upon the heels of reductions made by the Ford and Franklin people.

Overland, Hudson, Essex and Studebaker cars were those affected according to announcements issued Tuesday, with reductions ranging from $100 to $450.

"It's a matter of having to meet competition," George Bayly, president of the Lima Overland company, declared when he was informed of a news dispatch that carried the reductions announced by the Overland factory. "I believe that the Overland people have been fair all along in the matter of price, and that the reductions announced were necessary to keep the factory going," Bayly said.

H. H. Hawisher of the Hawisher-Henizer motor company, dealers in Studebaker cars, was also of the opinion that competition is responsible for the announced decrease in prices.

No information of the drop in prices of Hudson and Essex cars had been received Tuesday by Baxter Bros., dealers in these makes here, according to R. E. Baxter. "I am glad to hear it," Mr. Baxter declared, however, when he was informed of the reduction. "I wish that they would all get in on it right away and have it over with."

The decreases announced by the Hudson Manufacturing Co. were not specific Tuesday. They mentioned only the fact that the decreases range from $250 to $450.

The changes announced by the other companies are as follows: Overland: Four Touring car from $1,035 to $895, Coupe from $1,525 to $1,425, Sedan from $1,875 to $1,475, Willys Knight touring cars, coupes and sedans are reduced an average of $100.

Studebaker: Special six touring car roadster $150 decrease; Special six enclosed cars $250 decrease; Six $200 decrease.

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO VOTE

FROM various parts of the city and county reports are received from women who are interesting themselves in politics, which indicate that a considerable number of women will fail to exercise the right of their franchise in the November election, unless they change their minds and take a different view of the situation than they are now entertaining.

It is found, leaders among women state, that many of their sex appear to hold to the view that studying the political situation and voting their sentiments is a burden instead of a duty and a privilege. Many women who are taking an active interest in affairs political have children in school and they feel it is a duty to keep themselves posted so that they will be able to answer questions propounded by their children.

On the other hand, these women, who have a keen appreciation of their duties of citizenship, point out that various others who have no children are indifferent about voting; that they are neglecting and refusing to take any interest whatever in politics, taking the view that they cannot afford the time, which is mostly taken up with social affairs, etc.

For many years the fight was waged for the enfranchisement of women, placing them on an equality with men in voting on all questions; according them equal suffrage. That so many are refusing to avail themselves of the opportunity now afforded is looked upon with considerable concern by those representatives of the sex who recognize the fact a distinct privilege has been accorded them. Suffrage, of course, cannot and will not be the success hoped for until women generally realize that informing themselves concerning the merits or demerits of candidates and measures and then voting their sentiments, is a duty.

Women who feel that they are lowering themselves in the social scale by taking an interest in politics and by voting are taking a wrong view of the situation. They are as much interested in the future of America as are the men. Those who fail to study political questions, particularly the League of Nations, the most important issue in the present campaign, are not doing justice to themselves or to their fellow citizens and their country.

PRESIDENT MILLERAND

THE French Republic has a new President, Alexandre Millerand, having been elevated by the French Senate to the position of chief executive, succeeding President Deschanel, who resigned on account of the state of his health.

Millerand, as Premier of France, was a tower of strength for his country in the dark days of the war when France was severely tried and sorely menaced. He has the reputation of never "backing up." Since the war he has been at the side of Lloyd George and Giolitti in the reconstruction work in Europe. It now appears likely that instead of the President of France being a mere figurehead, as in the past, under the progressive sway of Millerand that office will be made an important one, in keeping with the dignity of the position. It is believed that under his direction France will take on a stronger national individuality.

That Millerand is impressed with the necessity of a continuation of a strong Franco-American friendship is evidenced by the warm message he sent, as Premier, on the occasion of the LaFayette-Marne celebration, a month ago.

"We are not evoking," were his closing words, "things that are dead, but which constitute the strength and life of people, their attachment to the principles which have created their existence, which have assured their development and have made it possible, consequently, to give each citizen in the same country the maximum of liberty. It is the history of the American democracy, as it is that of the French. And if ever a foreign force shall arise to dominate the world and annihilate liberty, among you and among us men, many will be ready to fight for its preservation, as your citizens and ours have done at times more than a hundred years apart, on the banks of the Delaware and on the plains of Champagne. Attachment to these principles assures the greatness of our two nations; it guarantees between them a friendship that can never melt away."

From America, from the hearts of American citizens, there goes across the great sea the best wishes and kindest feelings to the new President of the French Republic.

THE BAKER'S DOZEN

WHAT has become of the old-fashioned consumer who expected the baker to "throw in" an extra bun or cookie when a dozen were bought? The baker's dozen was 13, good measure and running over. With the high cost of flour and all that, the baker's dozen has disappeared.

But this is the story of how it originated and why. It appears there was a time when bakers were greedy and even dishonest. And so, from medieval times the strict eye of the law was kept upon them, because upon them both public health and public prosperity largely depended. Or at least so the rulers thought. And even from the time of King John, the bakers' profits were regulated by legislative enactment. The same King John, by the way, kept his little nephew, Prince Arthur, in prison, from which, one night he disappeared and was never thereafter heard from.

Later the penalty of heavy fines for infractions were charged by King Edward the Second over in England to confinement in the pillory. If there was short weight or lack of quality, ye baker might expect to be pilloried. So naturally, all bakers wanted to "play it safe." The result was that as a matter of precaution, the custom arose of giving an extra loaf of bread free when a dozen loaves were bought. This loaf was called the "in-loaf" or the "vantage loaf." So, 13 was the baker's dozen rather than 12. And for a dozen rolls even 14 were allowed. One writer naively says: "The custom is still kept up in some parts of Scotland."

MORAL: DON'T COOK

HEALTH HINTS FOR TODAY

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Question: "Is it dangerous for a healthy young woman to go in swimming at any time?"
Answer: Practically it is self-evident that any woman or girl may take a bath or go in swimming whenever she has the inclination to do so and enjoys the pastime, for nothing but health comes of this practice, as thousands of intelligent women know today. Don't be an old fogey.

Question: "Mother tells me that some time before I was born she just craved for bananas. When I was born there was a perfect banana on the side of the right leg near the knee. And a cousin of mine was born with a red mark on her neck—and their barn burned down just a few weeks before she was born. Now how can you deny that babies are sometimes marked?"

Answer: Belief in this superstition arises from the mystery and secrecy with which it is customary to surround the whole subject of human reproduction. Knowledge of life—which is biology—would convince you of the absurdity of your belief. Your position is akin to that of the child who believes in fairies, giants, Santa Claus and the stork. Knowledge of the dispels many unhappy thoughts and makes for optimism. The banana might as well be called a cigar or a Zeppelin, and as for the red mark—are not most nevi red, whether the barn has burned down or not?

Question: "I wish you would publish a good blood medicine, something to purify the blood."
Answer: I do try to publish one nearly every day. But I never call it a blood purifier. I call it a blood cleanser. I call it a blood tonic. I call it a blood builder. I call it a blood restorer. I call it a blood renewer. I call it a blood regenerator. I call it a blood revitalizer. I call it a blood rejuvenator. I call it a blood reinvigorator. I call it a blood reenergizer. I call it a blood reanimator. I call it a blood reconstitutor. I call it a blood reorganizer. I call it a blood restructure. I call it a blood reformation. I call it a blood renaissance. I call it a blood renaissance. I call it a blood renaissance.

The prohibition situation seems to be that, in some states it is possible for a man to stay sober if he thinks it is absolutely necessary."

YOUR NAME

BY PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
MACDONALD

VARIATIONS—MacDonald, Donaldson, Danielson, MacDonnell, Donald, Donaldson, Donaldson.
RA (AL ORIGIN—Scottish and Irish.

SOURCE—A given name. By far the greater number of families bearing this name are Scottish, the original of it would be hard to tell whether the clan Donald, thru which it comes down to us for the most part, would have been more properly classified at that time as Scottish or Irish.

Geographically—that is to say, according to modern boundaries—it would be Scottish. But racially considered from the angle of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries—it was just as much Irish.

The Macdonalds, or the Clan Donald, were the rulers of the Western Isles, which they had wrested back from the Norwegians, and at later periods their power was so great as to rival that of the kings of Scotland. Originally, of course, these Gaelic had crossed over to the Isles and the Scottish mainland from Ireland.

The clan name, "MacDonmhail," comes from the given name of "Donmhail," compounded of two Gaelic words, "domh" and "hail," signifying "mighty world." Donmhail, or Donald, was a grandson of the chieftain who conquered the Norwegians. One branch of this clan crossed back to Antrim, in Ireland, but the others remained in the Isles and in Scotland.

JUST A GIRL

BY JANE PHELPS

A NEW HOME

I smiled when Mrs. Leary asked me if Mary was like me. No two girls could be more unlike in every particular.

"No, Mrs. Leary," I replied. "Mary is a dear, good girl, but we aren't at all alike." Then some thing told me perhaps I had better explain things a little, tell her something of myself. She thought me "different-lookie," perhaps she feared to take me in. So I added: "My father died, Mrs. Leary, and there was nothing left for Mother and me, when everything was settled up there. We were very poor instead of having nearly everything we wanted, and—Dad. Mother is with a relative, and I am working so that some day we can have a home together."

"Glorious!" I knew you was somebody the minute I clapped my two eyes on ye! I knowed you ain't been no workin' gals fer long. Not that workin' ever hurt no one. I'll put some tidies on the chairs, Miss, and fix things up for yees before night."

I thanked her, paid a week's rent in advance, then left to pack up, feeling I had found another friend. Just that little speech about fixing up the room, putting tidies on the chairs, had made me feel that she understood just a bit how hard things were for me.

Mrs. Lynch seemed awfully sorry to lose us. But I explained that it was necessary, without mentioning the cause. As our rent was paid until the end of the week, it would give her time to again fill our rooms, and stand in lieu of a notice. "Shall I send your letters?" she asked.

"No—I'll come around occasionally and see if there is any mail." My only correspondent was Mother, and I would write her at once, giving her the changed address. If I left it with Mrs. Lynch Mike and J. might attempt to trace us.

That evening Mary and I spent arranging our rooms. I had also packed and moved Mary's things, for her so that we might be settled before I commenced to work.

Mrs. Leary had been as good as her word. She had "fixed up" our rooms. As I saw the course lace tidies, the little attempts at beauty, lying the hopelessly ugly rooms, the tears filled my eyes.

"Ain't it nice and clean?" Mary asked, delighted.

"Yes, and you see you keep it so," she replied. Mary was far newer than when we first knew each other but was still inclined to be careless.

"You bet I will!" We spent a busy evening getting settled. About 9 o'clock Mrs. Leary, who was very stout, came putting up the stairs, with a pot of tea and some thin bread and butter on a tray. It was several minutes before she could get her breath so that she could speak, then:

"I look a cup of tea when I'm tired, and I thought you'd like one before you went to bed. I've been listenin' and you has been workin' every minute. Ain't had no supper neither."

"I had my supper at the restaurant, and I brought Zena something," Mary told her.

"But I AM hungry, and shall love the bread and butter and tea," I broke in. "So will Mary."

"Mrs. Leary is hip to that! She knows no Irish girl ever says no to a cup of tea."

"Oh, Mary will you ever learn to talk without using slang?" I laughed.

"No, I never shall!" she retorted so dolefully that I repented at once and coaxed her back to good humor. I had tried to help Mary in her speech, tried to correct her use of slang, but made little headway. Had we been together all day, or had Mary worked in a different sort of a place, I would have had more success. But the slang of a sweat shop for years, then of a cheap restaurant, cannot be overcome in a few months—especially if the girl has no education to speak of.

Mrs. Leary remained but a few moments. After she had gone, Mary and I supped our tea, and congratulated ourselves upon being in so nice a place and upon having found so kind a landlady.

What Mrs. Leary was to be to us however, we never dreamed.

SPEAKERS NAMED FOR RALLIES

Democratic Committee Active in Arranging Meetings

Plans are going forward rapidly for a series of Democratic rallies in Allen-co between this time and election day, November 2, arranged by the speakers' committee of the Allen-co Cox club, with L. E. Ludwig, the chairman of the club, as chairman of the committee.

In addition to meetings already arranged, others are under way, including an assembly at Delphos, the date of which will be announced soon. Mr. Ludwig announced Tuesday.

Ben Motter, Bernie Halloran and Emmet Curtin, Jr., the program committee for the Cox club meeting, announced Tuesday that for the meeting Friday evening of this week at the court house, the speakers will be Harry O'Connor, C. L. Fese and a prominent woman, to be announced later.

Friday evening, October 8, a Democratic rally will be held at Bluffton, with Cyrus Locher of Cleveland as the principal speaker. Mr. Locher is well known in Bluffton and Richland-ty, having been a former resident of that territory and is a brother of the present postmaster at Bluffton. Mr. Locher was twice elected prosecuting attorney of Cuyahoga-co. Mrs. Kent Hughes of this city will also deliver an address.

Thursday evening, October 14, at Landeck, in the western part of Allen-co, Hon. J. H. Goeke will be the principal speaker at a Democratic rally arranged for that territory. A number of Lima men are arranging to attend the Landeck meeting, which is expected to be a large assembly.

The date has not yet been set for the assembly in Sugar Creek-ty to be addressed by Judge William Klingler. President Ludwig of the Cox club stated Tuesday that meetings are being scheduled for many points throughout the county during the next few weeks.

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. One little tablet after each meal and at bedtime—no clean-out to eat as candy—will make you weigh two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no bad results such as wrinkles or sallow skin. A good size box is sold by druggists at the reasonable price of one dollar, or if preferable they may be obtained by sending the amount to the Marmola Co., 94 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail prepaid, in plain, sealed cover.

Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

CARTER & CARROLL

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By Carolyn Wells

They crowded closer to see, and learned that the column was made in two half sections, one in the hall and one outside. These, again, were divided horizontally, about seven feet above the floor, and the joint concealed by decorative wreath of bronze oak boughs.

The column was hollow, and one half the shaft revolved within the other, which, in turn, revolved over the first, so that by successive movements of the two, one could pass right thru the vestibule wall, and close the opening after him, leaving no trace of his entry or exit. The vestibule wall, of mahogany, concealed the longitudinal joint in the column when closed. The doors were hinged to this wooden wall, and were opened and closed, and looked, quite independently of the column. Owing to perfectly adjusted ball bearings, and a thoroughly oiled condition, the mechanism worked easily and soundlessly.

"The whole contraption was brought from Italy," Stebbins informed them, "by the original Montomery. I don't think he ever used it for any wrong doings, tho they do say, soldiers were smuggled thru in war times, and contraband smuggling went on, too. But those are only rumours and probably exaggerated."

"You exaggerated the ghost stories, too, didn't you, Mr. Stebbins?" asked Wise.

"I didn't need to, sir. Those yarns of the Shawl Woman, have been told and retold so many years now, they've grown way beyond their first facts, if there ever was any truth to 'em. This here column, only one of 'em revolves,—has always been kept secret, but when the little witch child made me see it was my duty to tell of it, tell of it I did. Now, sir, go ahead and find who committed them dastardly murders and I'll consider I did right to break my oath of secrecy."

"No one will blame you for it," said Professor Hardwick, who was still experimenting with the revolving column. "This is a marvellous piece of workmanship, London. I never saw such before."

Pennington Wise was covertly watching all the faces as the various ones peered into the opening left when the column was turned. He stood on guard, too, and when Eve curiously bent down to open a long box, which stood up on end, against the inside of the bronze cylinder, he reached ahead of her.

"Yes," he said, contentedly, "let us see what is in here."

In full view of all, he opened the long box, such a box as long stemmed roses might have been packed in, and took from it a voluminous cloak of thin white material, a white shawl, and a mask that represented a skull.

"The paraphernalia of the Shawl Woman," the detective said, exhibiting the things, "your property, Mr. Stebbins?"

"Yes, they are," and the man looked shame-faced, but determinedly made all my plans, before the folks came up here, to haunt the Room with the Tassels. I meant no harm, I vow. I tho't they was a

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

IN WHICH THE COUNT IS BOTH FIERY AND TENDER

Monsieur le Comte was very gay, and very attentive to me all evening. I liked that, and I also liked his manner of bending over me, whenever he talked, or listened to what I had to say. Mostly he laughed in a joyful way, and more often he looked into my eyes, with his happy, heavenly, blue ones. Cecil was annoyed from the start, that I knew at once, but there was no reason to be peevish just because a good-looking man happened to like me. Seemed perfectly natural to me, for after all I'm young and not half bad looking, and why on earth shouldn't men like to see and be with me?

I have always had an overwhelming curiosity about the real Polish people, and now at last I had seen and met one, and found him most as I had pictured the men of his race to be.

He talked to me in a musical voice, and most of the time let his eyes speak for him.

The eyes, mademoiselle, should convey the language of the heart to the one we admire,—always, which is a pretty idea. It's so wonderful to find that there are still men who love romance, and woo women with ardour and poetry. Any girl loves same—that is, if she is truthful.

The count and I got along famously.

ORDER PROTESTED SANDLOT GAME COMPLETED

Deisel Wenner and Garford will have to complete a protested game at the Marbury stadium this Saturday, upon which will hinge the championship of the Industrial League of this year. The teams are tied at present.

That was the decision of the commission in charge of the Industrial League at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night.

The game, according to the action of the commission will be started in the sixth inning with Garford at bat, two men out, a man on first and two strikes on the batsman.

The game was originally protested by Garford when it was forfeited to Deisel Wenner when the truckbuilders are said to have refused to recognize a decision called by the umpire.

"Duster" Mails kept the Indians on top by beating the Browns 8 to 4. It was his sixth straight victory. Sisler brought his total hits to 248, equalling Cobb's 1911 record.

After baffling the Sox for five innings, Dauss weakened and was found for two runs, giving Gleason his 19th victory in the last 11 games, 2 to 0.

MARTIN SHADES ROPER IN TEN ROUND GO

CLEVELAND — Bob Martin, inter-allied heavyweight champion, earned a clear shade over Captain Bob Roper in their ten-round bout here Monday night. Martin's smashing body punches and occasional wallop to the head, slowed Roper and forced him to hang on in the closing rounds.

Martin's pretty bride and Roper's baby girl, who were at the ringside shared the attention.

Jimmy Bronson, Martin's manager, announced that Martin has been guaranteed $7,500 for his fight with Gene Tunney, Brooklyn heavyweight, scheduled for 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden, October 22.

Kid Karpinski and Joe Price, Cleveland middleweights, fought a draw in the semi-final. Al Corbett, Cleveland bantam, stopped Young McKenna in the fifth round while Al Zimmer finished Young Koppa in the second round.

ROBINS IDLE WHILE NEW YORK DROPS FROM RACE

By JOE BERNSTEIN.

THERE will be no more figuring in the National league this year. The pennant winner in the older of the two big circuits has been decided. Now it remains for the contesting league to present some opposition.

Brooklyn, standing idle Monday, watched Boston clinch the honors for them. Brooklyn sat by and looked on while the New York Giants failed to grasp their one opportunity to contest first place with the Superbas.

The race is over in the National league, and old Uncle Robinson, for the second time in his managerial career, has annexed the league hunting.

McGraw's Giants just had one game to lose, Monday, before their chances at the flag would be worth any more than fur coat in Yuma, Ariz., and they lost it. Boston defeated them in the second game of a doubleheader after the first had been won by the Giants 2 to 1. The second was also captured by a one run lead, but by the wrong team, as far as the Giants are concerned. The score was 3 to 2.

That one defeat was sufficient to eliminate New York from the race. The Giants were the only outfit in the league left to dispute Brooklyn's claims to the honors, and they were forced out yesterday.

Now with the National league entry in the world series decided, and with the world's series scheduled fixed, it's up to the American league to present the opposition.

AMERICAN RACE SHOWS NO CHANGE

With a find like Walter Mails, hurling Al ball for the Cleveland Indians, there is a lot of chance for the Tribe to cop the hunting this season.

The Southpaw recruit won his sixth straight victory Monday from St. Louis and helped the Cleveland team hold the lead by the slight margin of one game that has separated the Tribe and the White Sox for nearly a week now.

Cleveland has six games to play before their season ends officially. While Chicago has but three left, the White Sox keep up their winning streak and take the remaining games of the season. Speaker's outfit will have to take five out of the six that they have left to play.

But if Cleveland loses no more than two of those contests, the season will end in a tie for first place between the Tribe and the Sox. There'll be something real interesting in the air.

Whether the Sox can keep moving at the pace that they have been going during the past number of games is a problem. They have won ten out of eleven games played, but can they continue that kind of playing for the remaining three battles?

Robbie was born near Hudson, Mass., and it was in that section that he learned the rudiments of baseball and put them into practice. From the sand lots of New England he broke into professional baseball via the Haverhill club of the New England League and became the team's regular catcher. John K. Tener, who later became Governor of Pennsylvania and then president of the National League, was the star pitcher of the Haverhill club and Robbie handled his shoots. Together they formed one of the best batteries that ever saw duty in New England. Later Robbie was sold to Baltimore and Tener went to Chicago, where both made great reputations. In Baltimore Robbie became a close friend of John J. McGraw, a friendship that extends down to the present day.

MADE STUDY OF BATTERS
Robinson, as a catcher, learned much about the weak points of batters the team was called on to meet. So systematic did he make his study of them that his knowledge of the game has come to be regarded as the most marvelous in baseball. He has carried it with him in his management of the Brooklyn club and with astonishing success.

It was while with Baltimore that Robinson achieved fame and set a major league record when he made seven hits in a single game.

Robinson and McGraw remained together when they were sold to the St. Louis club, McGraw to become manager, but when McGraw went to New York to take charge of the Giants Robbie was left with the remnants of the once great team that had represented Baltimore. Later

Wilbur Robinson

EW YORK.—Wilbur Robinson and the President of the United States stand about the same with Brooklyn Indians. Just now Wilbert has something on the President, for he is rolling in the glory of the second world's series he has led the Dodgers into.

The smiling Robbie, discounted as a probable contender for the National League pennant when the season opened, has gone ahead without much to worry about and has landed his team on top, the second time he has turned the trick since he signed to manage the club after John McGraw let him get away from the Giants. Robbie led his team to a National League pennant in 1916 and, although he didn't cover himself with any great amount of glory in the world's series with the Red Sox that followed, he earned so much respect for himself that numerous clubowners have sought to devise means by which he can be paid loose from Charles Ebbets' payroll.

WAS WITH ORIOLES
Robinson is a graduate of the old Baltimore school of ballplayers. He was a member of the famous old Orioles when they were so strong that other teams found themselves practically out of the running against them. John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, and Hugh Jennings, manager of the Tigers, are other survivors of that famous old team who are managing big league ball clubs now.

Robbie was born near Hudson, Mass., and it was in that section that he learned the rudiments of baseball and put them into practice. From the sand lots of New England he broke into professional baseball via the Haverhill club of the New England League and became the team's regular catcher. John K. Tener, who later became Governor of Pennsylvania and then president of the National League, was the star pitcher of the Haverhill club and Robbie handled his shoots. Together they when the Giants were in need of a coach for pitchers McGraw went to Robbie and took him South. So good was the work of the former Baltimore catcher that he was immediately signed to a contract.

DEVELOPED MANY STARS
Robinson then began to again shine as a major leaguer. His ability to develop young pitchers and to save the old-timers who were beginning to slip was almost uncanny. McGraw freely gives credit to Robinson for development of Rube Marquard, who at this time seemed to be a sure lemon, and to others who have gained fame as hurlers for the Giants. It was Robbie who made a star of Ferdinand Schupp, who sat on the Giant bench two years before he finally proved himself equal to big league duty. Numerous others have been made into stars thru the genius of the old catcher.

When Robbie got the chance to manage Brooklyn McGraw gladly let him go. Since reaching there he has pulled Rube Marquard back from the edge of minor league oblivion and has reconstructed Al Marnaux and Burleigh Grimes until they have become winning pitchers.

Robinson himself attributes a great amount of his success to his knowledge of pitchers. Never since he took charge of the team has it felt a lack of hurlers. In 1916, when he won his first pennant for Brooklyn, it was his pitching skill that placed the team on top, and as much can be said this year.

Fat, always happy, with a smile for everyone, Robbie has won a host of friends in baseball. His players are for him from the batboy up, which is another secret of his success.

The White Sox only hope of winning the flag is to win all the rest of their games while Cleveland loses two. In case of a tie for the league title, they will meet the Indians in a three game play-off series.

BIG TREAT ON BILL SUNDAY

There'll be real fur flying at the Murphy street diamonds next Sunday when Dave Westbay, former Independent hurler steps into the box to pitch for Celina against his former team mates, the Lima Independents.

Celina has been booked by the Lima management for a double reason. Their successful season was the first consideration, but the second was Dave Westbay.

And Westbay will have to pitch some mighty good ball, too, for Bernie Halloran, who has been promised to show Westbay the box again for Lima this coming Sunday. It should be a pitcher's battle, if Westbay can show the right kind of stuff.

But the reason that the fur is going to fly is because the Lima management wants to show Westbay that his rather sudden departure from the Independent's line-up didn't affect the team at all.

Westbay and Manager Halloran had a little tilt one day before Westbay was supposed to have pitched ball for Lima. Halloran says Westbay told him he was going to go fishing that Sunday. Halloran declared that it was his business to pitch for Lima, since his announcement of changed intentions wasn't made in time. But Westbay went fishing anyway, and didn't pitch for Lima in the game the next day, or any day after that.

Now Halloran, who has been waiting all season for a chance to pit his team against Westbay's hurling, is satisfied. And so are the rest of the Independents who are kind of riled, they say, because of the way Westbay ditched 'em.

WOMAN AND DENTIST TO BE CALLED BY JURY IN LEAGUE QUIZZ

CHICAGO — Instigation of accusations that members of the Chicago White Sox had "thrown" the 1919 world series was resumed Tuesday by the Cook-count grand jury with President of the American League, and President of the National League expected to be the leading witnesses. Two other witnesses for today, according to announcement by Assistant Prosecutor Hartley Popple, are Mrs. Henrietta D. Kelly and Dr. Raymond B. Pretzman.

Several of the White Sox players named for Mrs. Kelly's building house and she will be questioned about conversations between them which she may have overheard.

Dr. Pretzman is dentist for the White Sox team and in a statement declared he could produce evidence of an attempt to persuade Weaver to "throw" games.

Manager Hugh Jennings of Detroit and President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati Reds will appear later in the week to testify. Popple announced, and subpoenas have been issued for a large number of others prominent in the sporting world, whose names have been mentioned in various statements since the last session of the grand jury last Thursday.

The White Sox being idle until next Friday, it is expected that some members of the team may be called. "Kid" Gleason, manager, and Ray Schalk, star catcher having been already summoned. Soon after the series last fall, Gleason, it is said, went to St. Louis to investigate reports received by President Comiskey of the White Sox that games had been "thrown." What he may have discovered has never been made public, but it developed during the previous sessions of the grand jury that the shares of eight White Sox players in the series money were held up by Comiskey for several months while rumors of crooked work were being traced.

RAIN HELPS CENTRAL TEAM

MAILS' SIXTH

Despite the repeated attacks of Jupiter Pluvius to stop the boys the Central High School's football team went thru a stiff practice Monday night. The ground being wet and rain falling the majority of the time the boys got some valuable experiences in carrying a wet ball and running on a slippery field.

As it was in weather similar to that of Monday that Central defeated Bowling Green last year the experience Monday may be able to duplicate last year's result when Central stacks up against Bowling Green next Saturday, provided the weather is bad.

Coach Detrick gave the first team a stiff workout on new plays Monday, particularly the forward pass. With Carl Young, Rotoff and Laughlin back in the game the first team line up was again changed the Coach Detrick claims the present lineup is by no means permanent. The line-up Monday was: Harvut, center; Mosher, right guard; Fritz, left guard; Dille, right tackle; P. Mitchell, left tackle; Douglass, right end; Drew, left end; Carl Young, quarterback; Blunk, right half-back; Rotoff, left half-back and Taylor, full-back.

CHICAGO RESTS

CHICAGO — The White Sox were idle Tuesday while the Cleveland club was scheduled to play a third game at St. Louis. The Sox open a three game series at St. Louis Friday.

TREAT PRESENTED AT ORPHEUM

Wit and Music Combined to Make Up Good Show

YOUNG PLAYERS PLEASING

Program Well Balanced—Other
News of Theaters

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)
PATRONS of the Orpheum theatre are being treated to a meritorious program the first of this week, one that, while not as good as some shows we have seen here, is a pleasing combination of wit and music.

Amanda Gilbert & Co., as the headliners, offer an exceptional act.
It comprises piano and violin numbers, accordion selections and several songs by Miss Gilbert, whose voice is decidedly rich and resonant.
One of the best musical acts presented here this season.

The Mast kiddies, adorable youngsters of about twelve, are real juvenile artists. They sing, dance and impersonate very nicely. Simms and Warfield, colored comedians, are not as good as most burnt-cork acts, but their act goes over successfully.
Charles and Helen Polly have an original act, with some clever contortions by the masculine half of the team.

La Rose and Adams, offering "breezy bits from Broadway" are good of their kind, but their act is the usual combination of talk and song, and as such, does not make much of a hit.

Vance and Allen, in "Talent 'N
Everything" is a rather novel act, embracing some good songs, clever repartee and lots of laughs.

The program is well-balanced and the majority of the numbers should please everyone.

THIS FAMOUS BAND has been a notable feature in the Inaugural Parade of every President of the United States since Thomas Jefferson in 1801.

For twenty-two years the U. S. Marine Band has been under the sole leadership of Capt. William H. Santelmann. None but musicians of the highest standing are accepted for membership. They are equipped with the best instruments money can buy and are required to rehearse on five days each week.
The average length of service of the present membership of the Band is about eighteen years. To these facts is due the undisputed prestige of The United States Marine Band as the world's greatest military and concert band. W. L. RADCLIFFE, Manager, New Masonic Temple, Washington, D. C.

You Don't Need A Spare Room With A Duofold

That's just what the duofold does.

It eliminates the spare room, and provides a comfortable, full sized bed, that is always ready when wanted, but never in the way when it isn't needed.

When not used as a bed, it provides a handsome davenport, suitable to take its place amongst the finest furniture.

Our Showing of Davenports Is Very Varied And
The Prices Are Most Reasonable

For many months we have been receiving large shipments of duofolds until now we are ready with one of the largest displays ever shown on our floors.

You will find just the style you want amongst the various ones shown, and the prices they are marked will prove to you that it is much more expensive to be without one in a home than to have one.

They may be had in both Tapestry and Leather covering, and are strongly constructed and beautifully finished.

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

Short Shavings

On Dolly's birthday she was presented with a baby bulldog, and her delight was delicious to behold. It was very young and she insisted upon taking it to bed with her, but the next morning she was looking very tired.

"Haven't you slept well, darling," asked her mother.

"No, mummy," said Dolly. "Nelson was crying in the night for his puppy, so I had to wake with him for company, and I made awful faces all night to make him stop. I was his bulldog mummy to comfort him!"

Farmer Spuds was lost in a London fog, and had tried a side alley in desperation, hoping to reach civilization again.

But the fog grew thicker and thicker. Presently he spotted a murky figure approaching.

"I say!" cried Farmer Spuds, as the figure would have slunked by. "Where am I going to?"

The reply rather startled him, for these words came thru the mist: "Into the river, boss! I'm just coming out of it!"

Two charming sisters are engaged to two brothers and their neighbors have been interested in this dual love affair. The young girls live in the second flat of a house on the south side of the street, and the other day the elder sister was stopped in the street by the young son of the family who occupy the second flat in the house just opposite.

"Oh, Miss Megs," said the boy, "my papa said last night that someone ought to tell you to pull down the blinds, 'cause if love is blind, the neighbors are not!"

This new way to beautiful teeth

All statements approved by authorities

Your druggist today has a new way of teeth cleaning. And a ten-day tube is free.

Millions of people now employ it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. You would never go without it if you knew.

Go ask for that free tube. There are few things more important than well-protected teeth.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And pyorrhea wrecks countless lives today.

An alarming situation

Tooth troubles have been constantly increasing. Very few people escape them. So dental science has in late years studied to combat that film.

Now we know how. The methods have been proved by careful clinical tests, made under able authorities. Now millions of people employ them, largely by dental advice. A new era in teeth cleaning is fast spreading the world over.

These new methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. A 10-Day Tube is given to everyone who asks. Now all who will may quickly know that film can be combated.

What you will see

A test of Pepsodent brings quick and unique effects. One sees and feels them clearly. And a book which comes with the 10-Day Tube tells the reasons for them.

One ingredient is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling. Each application also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva—to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

Day by day we fight the film and all its ill effects. You see the results in whiter teeth. You feel them in cleaner teeth. But the great results are such protection as teeth never had before.

You owe yourself a knowledge of these facts. Old ways of brushing have proved sadly inadequate. Nearly everybody at some time suffers troubles caused by film.

Now science knows how to combat film, and in ten days you can know. Never again will you trust the old ways when you know the new.

Teeth will glisten when the film-coat goes

Get this free tube and watch it. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the filmy film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears. You will instantly know that Pepsodent does what nothing else has done. In a few days you will realize what clean teeth mean.

Remove the film-coat

You brush teeth now, but you leave much of the film. A viscous film clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not end it. So teeth too often discolor and decay.

Dentists now know that the reason lies in film. That causes most tooth troubles. And, until one ends it, brushing fails to save the teeth.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.
